Help With Collage!
Indian Hills to sponsor financial aid workshop Indian Hills Community College will be holding a free financial aid workshop at the IHCC Davis County Center at 501 E. Locust in Bloomfield on Wednesday, Feb. 27. The workshop will be 5 - 7 p.m. During the workshop participants will be assisted with completion of FAFSA, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. The FAFSA is required for students seeking federal grants, student loans and work-study at many educational institutions. In addition to staff from Indian Hills' Educational Opportunity Center and Financial Aid office, those who attend will also have the opportunity to visit with academic advisors, recruiters, and representatives from the Ottumwa Job Corps center. To complete the FAFSA, prospective and current students should bring their most recent income tax return (1040), W-2s and other proof of income for themselves and their parents, if the student is a dependent.
